

From: Brett Fleisch <bdf951@gmail.com>
Date: April 12, 2017 at 06:07:20 PDT
To: regentsoffice@ucop.edu
Subject: Denial of emeritus rights since 2011

1. I did not resign, a secretary fired me as described on my web site. Responses are on my web site
2. A protection order was entered to reclaim my office space
3. An unknown Professor contacted another Professor on Privilege and Tenure and Ccd me to fire me and tell me I resigned, I was an instructor, and I missed classes while at NSF. It is likely the same secretary filled out the memo for Professor Funder as fired me and he merely initialed something out of his depth.
4. Under the Bylaws, I would be emeritus, on the web site. I am not there.

Instead Professor Funder was <redacted>, called me an instructor and fired me a second time as if I was an "at will" employee. He used "Rate My Professor" a system UC does not use because any person can masquerade as one of my students but may not be University students.

Brett D Fleisch, PhD.

supplementary note: at-will employees would not be fired by a memo with incorrect causes devised to terminate an employee with inadequate proof of cause. In fact, fraudulent employment causes were used